

Record of withdrawal by donor.

Thank you for considering donation of your tissue, blood and data to onCore UK for use in cancer research.

This form is used to record your decision to withdraw your tissue, blood and data from the tissue bank.

When you sign the form, all samples in storage will be destroyed in the way human tissues and blood from hospitals are normally destroyed. Similarly the information we store about you will be deleted so that it cannot be used again.

If it is a long time since you donated samples and information, some of your samples may have been used by researchers already. onCore UK cannot recall samples or information once they have been used. However, onCore UK will request the disposal of any samples that remain so that they can not be used in any further research.

Please note that signing this form will withdraw your consent for your tissue, blood and information to be held by onCore UK for research. Signing below will not withdraw you from any other clinical trial in which you may be participating.

Withdrawal

I wish to withdraw permission for my tissues, blood and data to be held or distributed by onCore UK. I want my samples to be destroyed and data deleted so that they are not available for use.
